Leader Talking Compromise

May Reach Agreement With GOP

HARRISBURG (UP)—Hopes of a compromise on a legislative program to be pushed for the remainder of the current General Assembly rose today after Gov. George M. Leader and Republican leaders announced some areas of agreement were reached.

But the parties to the three and one-half hour conference Thursday declined to disclose any details. Leader and Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom, who attended the parley, indicated further meetings would be necessary.

The governor issued a statement in which he said both the Republican and the administration's programs for legislation were discussed. On Wednesday, Leader outlined a 10-point plan of what he termed "priority legislation." But in the discussions he presented 33 points which he described as "being essential if government is to function efficiently."

He went into such new areas as labor, slum clearance and conservation of natural resources.

For the first time the Leader program and that outlined by the Republicans in their 25-point policy statement Wednesday agreed on one measure to be pushed—providing for equal property rights for women.

"We learned that on many subjects we are not too far apart," Bloom said.

Further Study Needed

"But we agreed before any announcement is made on what those subjects are both sides should have a further opportunity to study more thoroughly both the Republican and the governor's programs."

Twenty-one persons attended the meeting—11 Democrats, including the governor, and 10 Republicans. However nine of the 16 lawmakers at the conference were GOP members.

Among the new points emphasized by the governor were these:

Good government — Conflict of interest legislation and revamping of the Trunpike Commission.

Highways — Outlawing of billboards along the interstate highway system and the turnpike system; creating a system of roadside rests and picnic areas; creation of a scholarship program in the Highways Department to obtain additional trained engineers; compulsory financial liability insurance for motorists.

Health, welfare and public assistance—Liberalization of public assistance grants; control of air pollution; legislation to outlaw contamination of artesian water by sewage; an improved pure food bill; opening of tubereulosis sanitoria to persons suffering from chronic pulmonary diseases.

Labor—Equal pay for women; payment of prevailing wages on

They Really Are Optimistic Pair

WASHINGTON (UP) — Everett Barnett and Jim Davis qualify today as two of the world's greatest optimists.

The two employes of a Washington used car agency start today taking turns sitting atop a 100-foot scaffolding until the Washington Senators win three straight ball games.

The Senators last won three straight last September.

Something New Tried In Monessen Politics

Something new in politicking will be tried on Monessen voters before the May 21 primary election rolls around.

Mayor Hugo J. Parente and other members of his City Hall slate seeking reelection are planning to employ Hollywood techniques in their appeal for votes.

Instead of the usual lengthy talks that mark practically every political meeting, Parente and members of his slate will present a sound film entitled, "The Monessen Story", which will tell of the progress the community has made under Parente since he first took office in 1946.

For eight hours yesterday, Parente was the "leading man" in the movie being shot at various locations throughout the city. Councilmen David Victoria and John Molnar, City Treasurer John Smetman and Controller James Tucci, all seeking reelection, were cast in supporting roles.

Narrated Film

Shots were taken of new churches, streets, homes, sewers and other improvements made since 1946.

The narrated film, which is expected to be ready for showing early next week, will run about 15 minutes.

Parente said the narration will not include any appeal for votes. Instead, he said, it will deal solely with the progress of Monessen.

"Naturally," he said, "we will make an appeal for votes after the film is shown at political rallies. I want to point out that no bids for votes will be included in the narration."

Parente said that following the

Air Pollution Is Blamed for Some Diseases

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Public Health Service has found some evidence that polluted air contributes to bronchitis, heart disease, cancer, and other maladies.

It hasn't enough evidence so far, according to Nicholas E. Manos, to warrant advising people in smog areas to uproot themselves and get out.

Still, he added, there is enough data on the relation between smog and various diseases, to justify the Health Service's five million dollar-a-year program to find out more about it.

Manos addressed the American Meteorological Society Thursday on the air pollution medical program of the Public Health Service. This program two years ago was handed the job of supervising federal research on the complex subject of the effects of weather on the health of man.

Modern industrial man pours noxious gases and irritating particles into the air. Stagnant weather conditions concentrate them. The result is smog.

As for the health effects of smog, Manos said the University of Pittsburgh is making a new study of the great Donora (Pa.) smog of 1948 to learn what lasting injury it did.

Special Meeting Of School Board

A special meeting of the Monessen School Board was scheduled for 5 o'clock this afternoon in the superintendent's office in the high school, Supt. Joseph Pallone announced.

Dr. Pallone said the meeting was called to act on the proposed $275,000 bond issue the district needs to pay off an accumulation of back debts.

Pollution Research Paying Off

A continuing research program, which dates back to the Donora smog tragedy of 1948, is beginning to produce results in the battle against air pollution.

That is the conclusion reached in an article entitled, "That Creeping Menace Called Smog" which appears in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

According to the author, Leigh White, research has identified the more deadly pollutants as sulfur dioxide and of all things — ozone.

White traces the start of the research program back to the deadly Donora tragedy which claimed 20 lives and made thousands ill.

Following the disaster, the United States Public Health Service conducted a study which blamed the smog on a prolonged "temperature inversion" in the presence of "anticyclonic conditions" which allowed the pollutants in Donora's air to mix and concentrate to a lethal degree.

Many Studies

The pollutants involved were never positively identified. The Public Health Service would say only that, while sulfur dioxide was probably the worst offender, two or more pollutants were probably at fault.

Since the Donora smog, many studies have been conducted into the problem. Two years ago, Congress authorized the Public Health Service to spend up to $5,000,000 a year over the next five years to develop a nation-wide Community Air Pollution Program. Other agencies are also conducting pollution research programs.

The studies reveal that the most common pollutant is sulfur dioxide. In Los Angeles, scientists claim they have discovered a mysterious "Compound X" which they suspect of being one of the principal agents in the formation of a lethal smog.

Studies have also revealed that ozone, far from being the invigorating tonic that it was once supposed to be, is a poison gas as deadly as any that has ever menaced our communal health, the article states.

One of the most important aspects of the vast research program has been the link between smog and respiratory cancers. A leading researcher in this phase of the problem has been Dr. Clarence A. Mills, of the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Mills spent many weeks in

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy

What Kind of A Man Was Joe McCarthy?

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UP)—One day in 1950, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy stepped into an elevator at the Capitol and found himself face-to-face with Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

For weeks McCarthy had been charging on the Senate floor that Acheson had allowed Communists to overrun the State Department. He had come very close to accusing Acheson of treason. This was the first time the two men had ever met.

Before Acheson had a chance to turn away, McCarthy smiled broadly and held out his hand. "How do you do," he said, without a trace of hostility or embarrassment, "I'm Joe McCarthy."

In this story, if anywhere, may be found the answer to a question which Americans have been hotly debating for the past seven years ...and which historians are likely to go on debating for centuries. What kind of a man was Joe McCarthy?

He was a man who could be utterly ruthless in political combat...and as friendly as a puppy in personal relations.

He was a man who combined

Youth Steals Radio in Store

A youth entered the Jaycee Electric Co. at 345 Schoonmaker Ave., Monessen, late yesterday morning and fled on foot after taking a radio from the store, police said today.

Mary Tingori, clerk, told police a young man carrying a cardboard box entered the store and inquired about air conditioning units and other items. She said she noticed a radio missing and asked the youth if he had placed the radio in the cardboard box. He said no, and immediately fled from the store into an alley.

The clerk said she followed him into the alley but he vanished.

Liver Ailment Fatal; Career Controversial

WASHINGTON (UP) — Funeral services for Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy will be held at 11 a. m. (EDT), Monday in the Senate chamber where he rose to fame and later was condemned by his colleagues.

The Senate services will be preceded by Catholic Mass at 9 a. m. (EDT) at St. Matthews Cathedral, where McCarthy was married in 1953.

The Senate will meet briefly at noon Monday and adjourn out of respect for McCarthy.

A committee of senators will accompany the body from the Senate chamber to Appleton, Wis., leaving at 2 p.m. e.d.t., Monday.

Burial will be in Appleton at noon, Tuesday.

The decision to conduct the services in the Senate chamber was announced after Senate leaders conferred with Mrs. McCarthy.

The Wisconsin Republican died at Bethesda Naval Hospital late Thursday of a little understood liver malady called "acute hepatitis." The immediate cause of death was "acute hepatitic failure"—failure of the liver to go on working.

Death came to the controversial senator, who made hosts of enemies and friends with his attacks on alleged Communists in government, with a suddenness that shocked the capital.

He had been ill for a number of weeks but did not enter the hospital until last Sunday. The Hospital said he was "seriously" ill, but never publicly put him on the "critical" list.

The hospital would not or could not elaborate. A spokesman for the commanding officer said the cause of acute hepatitis is "not known" and "there really isn't" any list of dominant causes.

Asked if any autopsy was performed, the spokesman replied that "it was not authorized" and there would be none.

Silent About Health

McCarthy kept a veil over exact details of his increasingly frequent trips to the hospital, for a variety of stated ills, in recent years.

He had repeated operations on a knee punctured by a piece of steel while he was a Marine.

He recently suffered a cold or virus. He returned from Wisconsin during the Easter holiday with a high fever and entered the Bethesda Hospital last Sunday.

He died there at 6:02 p.m. e.d.t. Thursday after a severe five-day illness.

His death could not affect control of the Senate, which now lies with the Democrats by one vote. Vernon Thomson of Wisconsin was thought likely to call a

Mayors of Cities In State May Get Pay Boosts

HARRISBURG (UP)—Bipartisan legislation under study in the General Assembly would raise salaries of most city mayors and councilmen throughout the state.

The salary boosts would apply to new terms and not incumbents unless reelected.

The salary of the mayor of Philadelphia, the Commonwealth's largest city, would be set at $30,000 a year, $5,000 more than is received by present Mayor Richardson Dilworth. Philadelphia councilmen, whose controversial $3,000 raise to $12,000 last November prompted a House Republican bill calling for a referendum to approve it, would be raised to the $20,500 a year bracket.

In Pittsburgh, where Mayor David L. Lawrence receives $20,000 a year, the post would pay $24,000. Pittsburgh city councilmen would be upped $9,000 to $19,000 annually.

Mayors of Harrisburg, Reading and Allentown would get $10,000.

(The mayor of the City of Monessen receives an annual salary of $2,600.)

Other mayoralty salaries would be:

Population 8,000 to 12,000, $1,200; 12,001 to 24,000, $2,400; 24,001 to 36,000, $3,600; 36,001 to 60,000, $6,000; 60,001 to 85,000, $8,500; 85,001 to 125,000, $10,000; 125,001 to 175,000, $12,000; 175,001 to 250,000, 15,000; 250,001 to 350,000, $17,500; 350,001 to 500,000, $20,000; 500,001 to 1,00,000, $24,000, and more than 1,000,000 population, $30,000.

Cy Johns Day Plans Advanced By Chamber Here

General chairman William J. Huston today announced committee chairmen for the mid-year membership meeting of the Monessen Chamber of Commerce on June 4.

The affair will be known as "Cy Johns Day" in honor of Cyrus N. Johns, president of American Chain & Cable Co., Inc., of which the Monessen Page plant is a subsidiary. Johns, a former works manager here, will deliver the main address at the meeting.

Huston said Wiliard Krasik will be in charge of ticket sales, Dr. J. Karl Beery, reception, and Jack Sylvester, staging. Their committee members will be announced later.

Junior-Senior Prom, Party Here Tonight

One of the major social highlights in the life of a high school student — the Junior Senior prom and Post Prom party are just two — will be held in the Monessen High School gymnasium tonight beginning at 8 o'clock.

Immediately after the prom, which will last until midnight, the students will be guests at the annual post-prom party at the State Armory at Ninth St. and Donner Ave.

Rudy Benedetti is general chairman of the affair sponsored by local business, civic, fraternal and service organizations. The post-prom party will begin shortly after midnight and continue until about 5 a. m.

Music will be furnished at the high school prom by Buddy Lee's orchestra. Administrators and faculty members will be guests.

At the post-prom party, everything is in readiness for a night of entertainment. Benedetti stated. Disc jockey Barry Kaye, of Pittsburgh, will spin records and at 1 a. m. Stuart Arnold and his orchestra will provide "live" music.

Other entertainment will be offered by the Varsity Five, a vocal group; Baker Sisters, comedy team; Sandra, teenage ventriloquist, and Bobby Jule, juggler.

The theme for the party will be "Drifting and Dreaming".

Bill Cousins, first sergeant of Co. D., 110th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard, and his committee have decorated the armory for the occasion. Aiding Cousins were representatives of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Jaycees and Co. D.

Door prizes, which will include luggage, wrist watches and pen and pencil sets, will be awarded before the party breaks up at 5 a. m., Benedetti said.

Beck Indicted in Tax Evasion

TACOMA, Washington (UP) — Dave Beck, Teamster Union president already in trouble on two fronts, was indicted Thursday on federal charges of evading $56,420 in income taxes.

Beck, who faces arrest under the two - count indictment, was in Washington, D.C., where the International Brotherhood of Teamsters has its national headquarters.

He is scheduled to answer charges Monday before the AFL-CIO Executive Committee that his giant union is dominated by corrupt influences.

On Wednesday, the Senate Rackets Committee will resume its investigation into charges that Beck used $320,000 in union funds for his own benefit. Committee Counsel Robert Kennedy said recently he felt the committee could prove Beck "stole' the funds.

The indictment was handed down after "intensive investigations" of Beck's 1950 income tax returns, the Justice Department said in Washington.

The Justice Department said the return showed a net income of $46,398 and tax due of $15,540 for 1950. But the department said Beck's net income for that year actually was $135,226 on which the correct tax would have been $71,960—$56,420 more than was paid.

The second count of the indictment charges Beck with aiding in the preparation of a fraudulent information return from the Joint

Police Sifting Clues in Monongahela Murder

Joseph Mancuso Called Apparent Murder Victim

"Nothing new" was reported today as police authorities sifted clues in the strangulation murder of Joseph Mancuso, 65, a Monongahela shoemaker whose body was found lying in a yard with a leather belt looped around the neck.

Monongahela, Washington County and State Police said Mancuso was an apparent murder victim, but no motive for the slaying has been established. Police found five $5 bills in the pockets of the victim.

His body was found about 7:15 yesterday morning by Mrs. Mary Corbelli, of 125 East Main St., Monongahela, when she looked out of a window and saw what she thought was a dog with a broken leash lying in the yard near the shoemaker's shop at 123 East Main St. Investigating, she found Mancuso's body.

Belt About Neck

A man's brown belt was looped about his neck, police said. Although the belt was not drawn tight at the time the body was found, there were burns on Mancuso's neck which probably were caused by the belt.

County Coroner L. C. Gray said the right side of the victim's face was bruised, indicating he may have been dragged to the spot where he was discovered. The victim was wearing one shoe and his hat and coat were strewn on the ground several feet away.

An autopsy indicated Mancuso died about three hours after eating. The victim's wife, who could be questioned only briefly because of illness, said she had last seen her husband about 10:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Authorities are remaining tight-lipped about the identity of a suspect who was questioned yesterday morning. The person under questioning was reportedly a woman in her mid-seventies.

Today in Congress—

Benson Blasted for Present Farm Support

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democratic critics attacked Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson today for his blast at the present farm price support program.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender of the Senate Agriculture Committee accused Benson of trying to set himself up as an "agricultural czar."

Benson Thursday tore into the present farm program. He said it is "not working," is costly to taxpayers and is losing markets for farmers. He gave no specific recommendations but said he wanted discretionary authority to set support price levels.

Benson said he had the full backing of President Eisenhower and planned a campaign to convince farmers they'll make more money if Congress impowers him to cut support prices further.

Democrats confided privately that Benson has sharpened the farm issue for the 1958 congressional elections in their favor. Some Republican farm congressmen feared they might be right.

Other congressional news:

Rackets: Rackets Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) charged there is a "conspiracy" to keep his investigators from finding four witnesses to testify against Teamster President Dave Beck. The committee has been looking for the four for several weeks to ask them whether they were fronts for Beck to take money from his own union. The four are Beck's son, Dave Beck Jr., union attorney Norman Gessert and two of Mrs. Beck's relatives, Norman Gessert and Joe McAvoy.

Leaks: Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) said "There is a strong finger of suspicion" pointing to a high Civil Aeronautics Board official as the source of a lucrative leak of secret information. The official, Raymond Sawyer, former executive director of the CAB and now an assistant director of the board's air operations, categorically denied he leaked information about the secret award of a profitable route to Northeast Airlines.

USIA: Arthur Larson began drawing up new sets of facts and figures in hopes of convincing senators to restore 30 of 38 million dollars cut from the budget of his U.S. Information Agency. A Senate Appropriations subcommittee directed Larson to provide the information after criticizing some of his agency's operations. Larson said he needed the funds to combat Russia's growing worldwide propaganda offensive.

Trotsky: Rep. Francis E. Walter predicted the widow of onetime Soviet leader Leon Trotsky will tell a "quite revealing and educational" story about Communist methods when she testifies before his House Committee on Un-American Activities. Walter said she was "anxious to reveal what she could" about her knowledge of Communist leaders and her husband's assassination in Mexico City in 1940.

The two-count indictment marked the "culmination of intensive investigations" begun early in 1954 by the Internal Revenue Service and followed by a review of the evidence by justice investigators, the Justice Department said.

Each of the two charges carries a possible maximum sentence of five years' imprisonment or a fine of $10,000 or both upon conviction.

millions of Americans that he was passionately sincere in his fight against Communist "infiltration" . . . and other millions that he was a liar and a demagogue who cynically manipulated the public's fear of Communism to gain power for himself.

He was a bull-shouldered brawler who learned from a boyhood mentor named "Indian Charlie" that a quick knee to the groin was the safest way to greet an advancing stranger . . . and was a big jovial man whom children of all ages adored.

He was a man who by the sheer, raw power of his personality fierce drive of his ambition divided America as it has rarely been divided in its history . . . and left as a legacy his name embodied in an ism.

Death, even at the early age of 47, was an anti-climax to Joe McCarthy's tumultuous career.

His place in history, as the most controversial public figure of his day, will be based almost entirely on a four-year span of his life which began in 1950 with his sensational attack on the State Department, and ended in 1954, when the Senate voted 67-22 to condemn his actions.

He was the fourth senator in all U.S. history to be thus censured by his peers, and not even the drive of a McCarthy could surmount the handicap.

Costello in Close Call

NEW YORK (UP) — Gambler Frank Costello, nursing a minor scalp wound, owed his life today to a would - be assassin's poor aim.

Costello's luck, which hasn't been so good since he was the reluctant star witness of the Senate Crime Investigating Subcommittee in 1951, held fast Thursday night and a bullet fired by a gunman at his home only creased his scalp. He walked out of the hospital only a few hours later.

The 66-year-old gambler apparently was the mark for a well-planned gangland assassination. He was shot in the back of the head as he entered the lobby of the plush apartment building where he lives.

The gunman, who was clearly seen by the doorman, an elevator operator and a companion of Costello, was described as a heavy-set man about six feet tall, wearing a dark suit and black hat. He fired one shot at Costello from behind, waved his gun menacingly at the doorman, Norvel Keith, and then ran to a waiting black Cadillac which roared off with him. The light which normally illuminates the getaway car's license plate was dimmed.

Costello was described as an international rackets boss when the Kefauver committee brought him before the television cameras in 1951. When the questions became too pressing for Costello's comfort he walked out of the hearings, pleading a sore throat.

The committee then slapped him with a contempt charge and he was sentenced to 18 months in prison. He served a year and then was released.

In May of 1954, Costello, born Francesco Castiglia in southern Italy, was convicted of income tax evasion and sentenced to five years imprisonment and fined $20,000. Last March he was released, after serving 11 months, on a Supreme Court decision to review the sentence.

Last year, Costello defeated a government move to revoke his citizenship and deport him. He has been ill since.

WON'T TAKE HIM BACK — Despairing mother, Mrs. Sadie Bernstein (left) and her husband, Nathan (center) told Los Angeles police they will go to jail rather than take back the 13-year-old son, Jerry (right) she abandoned at the police station. She said Jerry was a "brilliant" boy, but "everything he touches is destroyed." Immediate cause of the abandonment was a $5 bill missing from her purse. Jerry denied taking the money.

Planning Commission To Step Up Schedule

The Monessen Planning Commission will step up its regular meeting schedule for the balance of the year in hopes of having the master plan for the City in a form for presentation to the public in December.

The Commission is in its second year of work on a comprehensive plan for community development. It has been meeting monthly with the City's professional consultants Community Planning Services Incorporated.

As phases of the report are completed the Commission has determined that more frequent meetings will be required in order to finish the job this year.

The Commission met yesterday afternoon to treat with problems of land use, neighborhood divisions and thoroughfares, all of which will carry specific recommendations in the final plan.

Some 20 meetings, including public hearings on zoning proposals, are tentatively scheduled for the balance of the year. Following is the Commission's timetable indicating phases of the report still to be worked on and the month in which it is hoped these phases will be complete:

Long range plans, June; zoning ordinance and map, August; subdivision regulation, building code and redevelopment, September; Capital program, October; suggested legislation, air pollution control and public property, November; the official and the public reports, December.

He left enemies who at this time chose to follow the example of one of his hardest-hit targets, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Acheson said it in Latin: "De mortuis nil nisi bonum"—"Of the dead (say) nothing but good."

President Extends Sympathy

President Eisenhower, who had trouble with McCarthy almost from the beginning of the GOP president's first term, joined Mrs. Eisenhower Thursday night in sending "profound sympathies to Mrs. McCarthy on the grievous personal loss she has sustained."

Of McCarthy's death, Eisenhower said only that he had "just been informed of (his) sudden passing."

Former President Truman, whose administration was bitterly attacked by McCarthy, said he was "very sorry" to hear of his death and would send condolences to the family.

"I'm at odds with a lot of people but that doesn't mean I hate them," Truman told reporters. "Let's not dig up a lot of old dead horses."

Adlai Declines Comment

Adlai E. Stevenson, two-time Democratic presidential candidate who also was bitterly attacked by McCarthy, said "I think I'd better not comment."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon called McCarthy a controversial figure who must be evaluated by history but added, "his friends and many of his critics will not question his devotion to what he considered to be the best interests of his country."

A close associate, Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.), said America has lost a fighting patriot, a courageous man who has been willing to pay the price for his convictions and for his country."

Maj. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, once told by McCarthy that he was "not fit to wear that uniform," said through an aide in Japan where he is now stationed: "No comment." McCarthy's final Senate fight was a futile effort to block the promotion of Zwicker, a key figure in the Senator's 1954 battle with the Army.

Pollution

the Donora-Webster district following the 1948 smog disaster and spoke at several meetings of the Webster Society for Better Living, an organization formed to fight air pollution.

Dr. Mills is convinced that cancers of the lungs, bronchi and larynx are often a cumulative result of the combined irritation caused by tobacco smoke, motor-exhaust fumes and urban air pollution in general.

In one study, Dr. Mills found that smoking commuters in Cincinnati's suburbs increased their chances of dying from respiratory cancers from two to three times simply by driving in heavy traffic to and from the city every day.

Other studies have connected smog with pneumonia, pulmonary tuberculosis and coronary thrombosis.

Despite the extensive research program, the adoption of anti-pollution legislation has been slow and sometimes ineffective, according to the Saturday Evening Post article.

Both Pittsburgh and St. Louis are praised for their anti-smoke programs. But similar efforts in Cincinnati and Los Angeles have fallen short, the article claims.

Korean Bonus Bill Passed by State Senate

HARRISBURG (UP) — The state Senate yesterday approved five proposed amendments to the state constitution, including a 150 million dollar bonus for Pennsylvania's approximately 335,000 Korean War veterans.

The bonus question will go on the statewide ballot in November. It now has received the approval of two successive legislatures.

At the same time, the Senate Appropriations Committee approved and sent to the floor a bill spelling out the method and qualifications for the bonus payments. The measure would give veterans of service from June 25, 1950 to July 27, 1953, $10 for each month, with an extra $5 per month for overseas duty, to a maximum of $500.

Eligible for the bonus would be all veterans who listed Pennsylvania as their place of residence at the time of their induction or enlistment, provided they have not received a bonus "of a similar nature from any other state."

Absentee Voting

Also approved by the Senate and cleared for the November ballot were joint resolutions to extend absentee voting privileges to civilians unavoidably absent from their voting residences because of business or illness, and to establish special tax standards and qualifications for private forest preserves.

Other proposed constitutional amendments approved by the Senate, but which would have to be okayed in the 1959 session before going on the ballot would:

—Provide for annual sessions of the General Assembly instead of the biennial meetings. The bill must return to the House for concurrence in a Senate amendment restricting the session in even-numbered years to finance matters.

—Lower the voting age in Pennsylvania from 21 to 18 years.

The Senate still has before it three other constitutional changes. The first would make the office of state attorney general, now filled by gubernatorial appointment, elective. The second would eliminate the office of secretary of internal affairs, and a third would eliminate a provision restricting each major political party to one nomination each when two vacancies occur on the state Supreme Court bench.

Dentist Claims Fluoridation Can Reduce Decay

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Dr. F. A. Bull, a Milwaukee dentist, said today he and most members of his profession favor fluoridation of water because it can reduce tooth decay by 65 per cent.

Dr. Bull, long-time leader in the fluoridation movement, outlined his views in an interview.

He said that if children get prescribed dosages of fluorides from an early age and continue getting them throughout life, they will have 65 per cent fewer cavities than persons not getting fluoridated water.

"The formative years when bone structure and teeth are developing, are the most important years for a person to get fluorides," he said. Persons who begin taking fluoridated water as adults "get little benefit but they do get some."

NATO Is Attacked By Cairo

By UNITED PRESS

The state - controlled Cairo Radio attacked NATO today as an "imperialist - Zionist" alliance and accused the NATO Council of Ministers in Bonn of interfering in Arab affairs.

A series of broadcasts warned Arabs to beware of plots against them and linked the Western Alliance with the Baghdad Pact and the Eisenhower Doctrine.

The Eisenhower Doctrine itself came in for new attacks as U.S. special envoy James P. Richards finished up his last day of talks with Israeli leaders in Jerusalem before returning to Washington.

Communique Expected

Informed sources in Jerusalem said Richards and Israeli leaders were expected to issue a joint communique expressing a desire for peace in the Middle East but not commiting Israel to support the doctrine.

They said this would be done not to prejudice Israel's chances of bringing in more refugees from Soviet Russia and the satellite nations in Israel's campaign to increase its population.

In Cairo Egyptian sources said they believed the American decision not to send Richards to Egypt now was a tactical move to avoid formal Egyptian rejection of the doctrine.

President Eisenhower ordered Richards home Thursday.

The tense situation in Jordan was reported eased, as shown by the government decision to lift the curfew for 15 hours Thursday.

6th Fleet Lauded

Iraqi sources gave the U.S. 6th Fleet much of the credit for helping Hussein weather his crisis. They said the move enabled the young monarch to solve his own domestic affairs without serious fear of foreign intervention.

With the situation reported quieter in Jordan, attention was centering on Syria which was preparing for four by-elections Saturday for parliamentary seats. The elections may test the strength of the pro-Communist regime in power now.

United Press correspondent Wilbur G. Landrey reported from Damascus the elections conceivably could explode into demonstrations organized by either side. Martial law was lifted recently in the four districts where elections are being held.

VFW Plans Banquet To Honor Past Post Commanders May 23

Plans were announced for the annual Past Post Commander's banquet at a meeting of Allison-Lescanac Post 1190, Veterans of Foreign Wars last night.

The banquet, which will honor Past Commander Vincent LaRiccia, will be held Thursday, May 23, at 6:30 p. m. at the Post Home. The Ladies Auxiliary will serve dinner. Elliott Bianchi is chairman.

Featured speaker of the evening will be William Tepsic, senior vice commander of the Pennsylvania VFW.

James Drizos, of R. D. 2, Belle Vernon, was accepted as a new member.

Reports were given by the following:

Frederic Feldman, athletic officer, who reported on the annual marble tournament which is under way. Feldman said that boys are competing at Memorial Civic Center nightly to represent Monessen in the District 27 tournament May 18 in Greensburg. The state tournament will also be held in Greensburg, the following Saturday, May 25. Last year, Eugene Ninchak, Monessen champion, advanced to the state finals in York.

Feldman also reported that practice sessions are now being held by members of the Post 1190 Little League Baseball team, managed by George Bonari and James Caputo.

Walter Kwolek, senior vice commander, reported on plans to remodel the Post home. He said that several contractors are in the process of submitting bids on the proposed work.

John Hurrianko, commander, reported on Memorial Day activities. He said that wreaths and flags will be placed on veterans' graves at Grandview cemetery and other district cemeteries prior to the actual observance to be held at 11 a. m. Thursday, May 30.

Philip Columbus, Poppy Day chairman, reported that plans have been made with members of the Ladies Auxiliary to sell poppies on the streets of Monessen on Wednesday, May 29. He urged that uniformed members report to the Post home early that day to help with the sale.

Richard Pustelak, quartermaster, gave the financial report and R. Mitchell Steen, Jr., adjutant, reported on membership.

Members of the Post will take part in a military funeral for John Guydan, Saturday morning.

Reported in the hospital were Alex Snyder and Perry Cozza, Oakland Veterans Hospital and Wilbert Ferguson, at Leech Farm Rd. Hospital.

Wilson Critical Of Rich Friends For Budget Barbs

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has come a long way in his thinking about government spending since he quit being a captain of industry and joined the cabinet.

In just about the only display of anger he has shown newsmen in almost 4½ years here, Wilson blurted out Thursday that his rich business friends give him a "pain" with their squawks about the big federal budget. The millionaire ex-president of the giant General Motors Corp. said he was "disgusted."

Wilson's heated remarks were aimed at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce which claims there is wasteful duplication and inefficiency in military supply programs.

Wilson's vigorous defense of increasing military outlays seemed to contrast with the theme he reiterated in his first months in office in 1953 when he got a reputation for swinging an economy ax.

Nominate Officers At Lions

Those nominated were Daniel Salotti, president; Peter Roman, first vice president; Steve Wisyanski, third vice president; Armand Mori, financial secretary; Mike Hardon, treasurer; Tony Stupakis, tail twister; Mickey Hulick, assistant tail twister; Paul Frazzitta, lion tamer; Glen Chew, assistant tail twister.

There will be three directors elected and those nominated include Arthur Kress, John Lucas, Ben Massa, Nick Puleo and Bill Pushkar.

Last night's meeting was shortened since the second presentation of the Minstrel Show, "Dixie Capers" went on at 8 o'clock in the High School auditorium.

Guests at the dinner were the Iverson Trio currently appearing at Twin Coaches, and who appeared both nights as guest stars in the minstrel.

Lions International President John L. Stickley expressed his appreciation through President Essey of the work done by the Monessen Club toward the District 14 E banquet held recently at Twin Coaches.

The annual broom sale was announced for June 14 and 15.

Churchill Blasts Attitude of UN

LONDON (UP) — Sir Winston Churchill today condemned the United Nations for its attitude over the Suez crisis and said those who attacked Britain and France last fall may have reason now to reconsider their opinions.

The former premier, in his first political speech in a year, told the annual meeting of the Primrose League that the country and the Conservative Party "owed gratitude to Sir Anthony Eden."

The Spirit at Work In the South

MANY thoughtful Americans hold the view that the best chance for the ultimate elimination of race discrimination in the South — and elsewhere — lies not so much in the realm of law as in religion. President Eisenhower's views on the subject tend to follow this line.

Man does not treat his fellow human being as he himself would like to be treated because any judicial body has decreed that he must. He does so because he is a spiritual creature, and it is basic to the spirit of both of the great religions in this country, Christianity and Judaism, that men shall live in peace and equality as sons of God.

It has been apparent for some years that the white people of the South have begun to apply the principles of their religion to such issues as racial segregation in the public schools. And it seems to us that this process may well have more lasting effect upon the solution of such problems than all the court decisions that could be written.

As an example of what is taking place, consider the statement made recently by the Presbyterian Church in the U. S., the Southern branch of that denomination which became divided during the Civil War. One of the strongest of the Protestant churches in the South, the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. has declared that the Christian faith "has never countenanced racial discrimination, and the supreme law of the land requires that it no longer be practiced in the public school system . . ."

"Therefore," the statement concluded, "during this period of transition every member of the assembly is urged to work in his own community for an honest and durable adjustment."

ANYONE who thinks such a statement of official policy could be adopted by the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. without painful controversy does not know the South. And it would be wrong to pretend that this statement reflects the thinking of all Presbyterians south of the Mason-Dixon line. It assuredly does not.

Nevertheless, this declaration is surely evidence that the leavening processes of the spirit are at work. As God-fearing men and women attempt to square their customs concerning racial differences with the faith which they want to guide their lives, they find it cannot be done. Look at it however they will, they come to recognize that the Negro child must have the same — not just equal — educational opportunities as the white child.

As in most matters involving basic changes in men's thinking, this process is going to be slow and probably not very dramatic. And meanwhile injustice and defiance of the law will continue to make news. But we have the feeling that America is well on its way to meeting this great crisis with the same resilience and courage that have brought it through other trials that have tested its spirituality.

Another 'Brink'

THE MIDDLE EAST seems to have been [illegible] successfully through another crisis. Jordan is relatively calm again, young King Hussein's control seems to be firm, the Communist-influenced Syrian forces are leaving the country and the immediate outlook is peaceful.

How much of this is due to good luck and how much to good management, it would be hard for anyone to say. But we think any fair appraisal of the conduct of United States policy during the Jordan crisis would conclude that the right things were done and said at the right time.

President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have taken a good deal of criticism over the management of Middle East policy. They have been berated by the Zionists for not supporting all things with Israel. They have been berated by Democrats for allegedly "deserting" our allies, Britain and France. They have been berated by self-styled "liberals" for undercutting Nasser, the Egyptian dictator. Poor Mr. Dulles is either a swashbuckler or a lily-livered pacifist, depending upon who happens to be speaking.

In the case of the infinite complications of the Middle East situation, there can be one reliable test of a policy: Is it preserving peace and is it tending towards an honorable equitable solution of the difficulties? The Jordan crisis shows again, we believe, that Eisenhower-Dulles policy is essentially sound.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kostante

Marie Monios Weds Michael Kostante at St. Spyridon

Solemnized on Sunday afternoon, April 28, in St. Spyridon Greek Orthodox Church on Reeves Ave., was the marriage of Marie Monios, of Monessen and Michael Kostante, of Pittsburgh.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spiros Monios and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Zoe Kostante, of Pittsburgh and the late Louis Kostante.

The double ring vows were exchanged before the Rev. Ioakim Isidorides, church pastor. Ferns and gladiolus decorated the church altar and the aisle of the church was lined with white crash. Ferns and white satin bows marked the family pews.

Mary Kalamaras played a prelude of nuptial organ selections and responses were by the church choir.

Formal Gown

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of sheer organza in white with a slim molded bodice and a low cut neckline etched with appliqued hand clipped Chantilly lace flowers highlighted with irridescent sequins. The voluminous skirt featured hand clipped Chantilly lace flowers with irridescent sequins and extended into a sweeping cathedral train. Her fingertip veil was of misty sheer illusion with appliqued lace and irridescent sequin trim and it was attached to a half hat of lace and sequins. Her only jewelry was a pair of cultured pearl earrings, a gift of her parents and she carried a bouquet of white bridal roses and orchids.

Bridal Party

Katharine Papantonakis, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of aqua embroidered nylon with a matching crown and brief veil and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow talisman roses.

Bridesmaids were Callie Flaskos, cousin of the bridegroom, Callie Moundros, Fran Moundros and Maria Pagonis, all friends of the bride. They wore gowns in yellow nylon styled identically to that worn by the honor attendant. They wore similarly styled headpieces and carried colonial bouquets of yellow tea roses.

The two flower girls were Joyce and Despina Scoulos, nieces of the bridegroom, who were attired in gowns of white nylon.

Best man was Steve Tetteris, godfather of the bride and serving as ushers were Tom Monios, brother of the bride, George Arsenis, Nick Nicholoides, cousin of the bridegroom and James Dimitrious, all of Pittsburgh. The ringbearer was George Michael Peters, for whom the bride is gosmother.

Mrs. Monios, mother of the bride, wore a lilac chiffon dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom selected a black chiffon dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Dinner and Reception

A dinner at Twin Coaches followed the ceremony and places were set for 400 guests and later a reception for 1000 relatives and friends was held there.

When the couple left for a trip to Miami, Fla., the bride was wearing a black silk shantung sheath dress with short gray cape and black accessories with a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kostante will be at home to their relatives and friends in their own home on Ivy Ave., Shadyside, upon their return. The bride was graduated from Monessen High School and Robert Morris School of Business and is employed as a secretary at the Blaw Knox Co., Pittsburgh. The bridegroom was educated in Greece and is employed at the Penn Sheraton Hotel and the Horizon Room at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

On Saturday evening after a wedding rehearsal there was a party at the home of the bride.

Out of town guests were from New York, West Virginia, Ohio, Erie, New Castle, New Kensington, Pittsburgh, Ambridge, Charleroi, Belle Vernon, Donora and Chester.

Sportswriters Supply Track Medals

Individual winners in today's Big Six Track Meet at Brownsville will receive medals. The awards are presented annually by the Mon Valley Sportswriters Association . . . Andrew (Red) Midway, of New Eagle, has been named to officiate the Baltimore-Rochester eastern final of the National Amateur Cup soccer series on Sunday, May 12, in Rochester, N. Y. Red is also a top-notch baseball arbiter . . . Consensus hereabouts seems to be that the Pirates got the better of the swap with the Chicago Cubs. Time will tell, of course . . . Speaking of the Bucs, they plan to promote special "nights" for tri-state communities to keep attendance up. A first division ball club will help, too.

This has certainly been Charleroi High's year in sports. The Cougars already own the valley football and basketball titles. And they appear to be shoo-ins for the baseball crown as well. Never before has a valley team won all three titles in one season . . . Incidentally Monessen's only varsity win over their cross-town rivals this school year came in tennis the other day . . . At Monongahela, schoolboy athletes again voted to sit in on a Pirate game rather than sweat through the traditional all-sports banquet.

Mastracci, Mitnick Are Co-Captains

Monessen Ozark manager Pappy Johnson has named Bob Mastracci and Bill Mitnick co-captains of the current club. Pappy plans to rely heavily on them to keep the team going this season . . . By the way, Mike Young, the city's outstanding baseballer, still hasn't decided which team he'll play for this season. However Mike's been travelling with the Ozarks to exhibition games. The other day, he umpired the Ozark-Yukon tussle . . . Obviously scholastic baseball scorekeepers don't always agree. This week, the Bellmar scorebook showed California with one error while the Trojan book had the home team committing eleven miscues! California lost, 7-3, which might explain the "strict" rulings by the disappointed Trojan scorer.

Monessen's Bob Petty is rooming with Brownsville's Jack Parr at the Dodger Class D Farm club in Kokomo, Ind. Both hopefuls are pitchers who were lured into the Brooklyn organization by Scout Jim Russell of Fayette City . . . The Charleroi Boosters Club met this week in — of all places — the borough jail. No kidding! . . . Taht's Al Trozzo catching for the Monessen Ozarks, not Sonny, as previously reported . . . Stan Homer, the hot-shot player with Monongahela Junior Legion some years back, plans to play with Yukon in the Westmoreland County League this season. Homer played high school ball at South Huntingdon.

Smith Considers Greensburg Lucky Spot

Ted Smith, Monessen's 135 pound amateur boxer, considers Greensburg his lucky spot. And for a good reason. Smith has scored four straight knockouts in recent bouts at the county seat . . . The WPIAL championship Monongahela High soccer team was thrown a big supper the other night by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox, parents of standout player Fred Cox. On hand as guests were Pitt football coach John Michelosen, his assistant Jack Wiley and Panther soccer boss Leo Bemis. Michelosen and Wiley were happy to attend. They want the Cox youngster for their freshmen team next season and the courtesy trip wrapped things up.

SOFTBALL LEAGUES ARE REORGANIZED

Pricedale League Expands

The Pricedale Softball League has gone big-time!

This season the circuit will have ten teams from all over the district.

Because of the increased membership, the loop name will be changed to the Tri-County Softball League.

These teams have already enrolled for the upcoming campaign: Pricedale Hillcrest, Charleroi Lee Norse, Donora R. C., Monessen USW, Fairhope Red-Gun, Fairhope Firemen, Donora SRR, Naomi, Roscoe and Monongahela Combustion Engineers

To Stay in Office

Ted Nicholls, who served as president of the Pricedale League, will retain that office while the new circuit is being organized.

He said the next meeting will be held Friday, May 10 at the Hillcrest Hotel in Pricedale beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Tentatively, the season will begin on Monday, May 13.

A complete schedule will be drawn in the near future.

Nicholls said all ten teams were represented during a meeting last night to formulate plans for the upcoming campaign.

Penn State to Be Strong at End, Fullback

Five returning lettermen at end and three at fullback eliminate those positions as potential trouble spots as Penn State's Rip Engle contemplates the 1957 football season.

With Spring drills now at an end the Lion coach and his aides are engaged in reevaluating the available personnel and fitting their strategy to this manpower for the forthcoming season. The Lions will play nine games, opening against Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, September 28.

"In the main, we'll be deeper in every position except perhaps at tackle and guard," Engle says. "We have some top prospects in both positions, but it's too early to say whether they'll be ready for early duty. Some of them still need a lot of work."

End hold-overs are Les Walters of Hershey; Jack Farls, of Freedom; Paul North, of Baden; Romeo Pannozzo, of Providence, R. I; and Ron Markiewicz, of North Braddock. The fullback aspirants are Maurice Schleicher, of Slatington; Emil Caprara, of Turtle Creek; and Ben Williams, of Lakewood, O. These eight players represent half of the 16 returning letter-winners.

Surkont Sent To Minneapolis

NEW YORK (UP) — Max Surkont, 34-year-old veteran right hander was sold by the New York Giants today to the Minneapolis farm club of the American Association.

Surkont had appeared in five games this season for the Giants, all in relief, and had suffered one defeat. He had allowed seven runs in 6 1-3 innings.

The stocky pitcher broke into the major leagues with the Chicago White Sox in 1949 played with the Boston and Milwaukee Braves from 1950 through 1953, with Pittsburgh in 1954 and 1955, and last year played with Pittsburgh, St. Louis, and San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League before coming to the Giants.

Stan Musial Has Sights Set on His Seventh NL Battle Crown

By RUDY CERNKOVIC

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Stan Musial winced when he was reminded that he won his last National League batting championship in 1952.

"Don't tell me it's been that long," he said as he relaxed on a clubhouse bench. "I can't say that any ballpark is a jinx," he said. "Sure, I used to have trouble at Forbes Field. I could not analyze his fast start this year, contrary to his usual form.

"I got off fast in 1948," he reflected. "And I think in 1952. That year both Ted Williams and I got a head start.

Musial and Williams are repeating their 1942 pattern this season. Both are clipping the ball at better than .400 averages.

"I'm often asked what pitcher gives me trouble. Well, they can all give you trouble. Each team carries about 10 pitchers and in the law of averages you're bound to run into trouble once in a while."

Stan the Man said he always hit well in New York—both at Ebbets Field and the Polo Grounds. But look at the other night."

Stan was hitless against the Pirates Tuesday night until his fifth time at bat. He singled off Roy Face for hit No. 2,800 of his major league career. His second hit of the night was a homer into the rightfield stands in the 13th inning that gave the Cardinals the ball game.

Musial "pitched" himself into the 1952 batting leadership. He and Frank Baumholtz, then of the Reds, were fighting for the league lead on the last day of the season. Musial needed only one hit to win the championship. But Baumholtz needed at least five for five.

Cardinal manager Eddie Stanky told Musial to pitch when Baumholtz came to the plate in the first inning. Musial in his only major league pitching stint—which consists of one thrown ball—threw at the plate and Baumholtz grounded to Solly Hemus, who muffed it for an error. Baumholtz reached base but lost the batting title.

BV Baseball Tryouts Underway Tomorrow

Belle Vernon's fine baseball program — sponsored by the community's Lions Club — will swing into action tomorrow, according to director Harold Ringstad.

Tryouts will be held in the Midget, Junior and Prep Leagues.

The Prep Leaguers will gather at the Fayette City diamond beginning at 9 a. m.

Boys must be from the Bellmarette district to be eligible for Prep Ball. They have to be between the ages of 15 and 18.

According to Ringstad, boys must be 15 on or before May 31 and 18 on or after May 31 to qualify. All candidates are to bring along their own gloves.

The Belle Vernon Prep team will compete in the Mon Yough League along with other district nines.

Report Tomorrow

Both the Midget and Junior League candidates will report to the Midget League Field tomorrow at 2 p. m.

At that time rules and regulations will be explained.

All persons interested in managing, coaching or umpiring should also attend this session.

Ringstad said that boys have already been registered through the schools. Because of increased interest, the Midget League will have either nine or ten teams this season instead of six as was the case last year.

Rolloffs Begin In Valley Ladies League Tonight

Rolloffs will begin tonight at the Connellsville Bowling Center to decide the 1957 Mon Valley Ladies League champion.

Matching talents will be the Uniontown Axelrads, Donora Bowling Center and Charleroi Grands. Those teams finished one-two-three in the final standings.

The team with the highest total pinfall in a three game series will emerge as the finalist.

The title round will be held next Friday, with first place Monessen Fifth Avenue an automatic qualifier. That match will also be decided on the basis of total pins.

Monessen will be on hand this evening as a "pacer." The Monessen scores will not count.

The regular season of the valley league concluded last weekend with Monessen winning two, from Vestaburg, Fredericktown taking a two from Belle Vernon, Charleroi sweeping over Monongahela, Uniontown winning two from Donora and Connellsville earning a brace from Scottdale.

Marble Tourney Moving Along At Fast Clip

Monessen's ninth annual marble tournament is moving along at a speedy clip.

Tourney Director Frederic Feldman reported these results in action yesterday:

Linden School — Steve Gaydos over Eugene Joseph, William Shepler over Dave Sivek, Shepler over Gaydos.

St. Leonard's School — Bobby Hudson over Gregory Carrotta, Joe Campus over Danny Bergstedt, Hudson over Terry O'Toole; Joseph Rodgers over Campus. John Dimo over John Fleming and Gerald Sarik over Robert Ingani.

Feldman said that each school champion will receive a trophy. The city king will get a larger trophy plus a trip to the district VFW tournament in Greensburg.

According to R. J. Moschetti, VFW athletic officer for the district, the Greensburg event will be held on Saturday, May 18.

This year, the state VFW tourney will also be held in Greensburg on May 25.

Calderones Win Field Fence Title

Calderones are the 1957 champions of the Field Fence Bowling League.

They won the title last night by winning three of four games from the Mascetta's in the championship rolloff.

Ridsey Calderone led the winners with a 178-594. He was helped out by George Bobby who posted a 171-565.

For the losers, Nick Mascetta had 158-593, and Mike Cesovski, 190-533.

Seven Teams Already Join City League For 1957 Campaign

Seven teams indicated last night that they intend to take part in the 1957 City Softball League race.

The entries include the Cro-Ams, Ozarks, PNA, Ravens, Italian Hall, Myfords and MPSA.

Not present were two clubs which took part last season: Fuocos and ULBA.

Doc Destefano was elected president of the league, succeeding Domenick Zimmaro, who has held that office for years. Zimmaro did not seek reelection.

Emil Crisi was picked to succeed Destefano as secretary. Andy Waco was reelected league treasurer.

Meeting Monday

The next league meeting will be held Monday at 8 p. m. in the Ravens Club.

Any teams interested in joining the circuit must have representatives present at that time. League officials stressed that Monday will be considered the deadline for new entries.

A schedule will be drawn at Monday's meeting. Other plans will also be discussed.

Perry, Steeler End, Improving

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Pittsburgh Steelers team physician Dr. Phil Faix said today the condition of injured end Lowell Perry appears to be improving.

The doctor said, however, it was too early to determine if Perry ever will be able to resume his pro football career.

The former University of Michigan lineman suffered a dislocated hip and pelvis fracture in a game last season against the New York Giants.

He hobbled into Pittsburgh Wednesday on a crutch for an examination but Dr. Faix said Perry could substitute a cane for the next stage of the recovery at his Ypsilanti, Mich., home.

Uniontown Bowlers Set New Record

Ray Carolla and Domenick LaTorre, of Uniontown, were resting today after setting a new world's marathon record for duckpins.

The two men bowled 62 hours and eight minutes without stopping at the Laurel Lanes in Uniontown. That was exactly two hours longer than the previous mark.

The stunt was staged for the benefit of the Dick Kadis fund. Visitors donated money during the event which took almost three days.

The two men completed the marathon yesterday morning.

Monessen Second In PNA Bowling

Monessen finished second in the Mon Valley PNA Ladies Bowling League race this season.

The city girls ended the regular season in a tie with Arnold City for second.

In a special rolloff, the locals dropped their first two games, but came back strong to win the next three and thereby earn the second rung in the standings.

Scoring leaders for the Monessen girls included Jenny Pavlik, 167-658; Dorothy Beres, 170-601; and Helen Kizas, 157-594.

League secretary Mrs. Stella L. Kroskie announced these standings:

Bentleyville, 59-31; Monessen, 52-38; Arnold City, 52-38; and Charleroi, 18-72.

Sugar Ray Plans Just One More Title Defense

CHICAGO (UP) — Sugar Ray Robinson will hold his prized middleweight championship for only one more fight.

Robinson, who gained the crown for the fourth time Wednesday with a fifth round knockout of Gene Fullmer, made it definite today that he'll be a song and dance man on the Broadway stage "next winter."

"I'll defend the title against Carmen Basilio, if the terms are right," he said, "and if I am, that's my last fight. If I lose, of course, I'd want to try and get it back."

But should Robinson lose, he would not be the champion going into the rematch, which he will demand as part of the contract for a Basilio fight, and this then would become the finale to his 17-year career in boxing.

Should Robinson go through with his plans, it would be the second time he has given up a title to a stage career. He quit the ring in 1952 after losing to Joey Maxim in a bid for the light heavyweight title, but 30 months later he returned to boxing and in 1955 recaptured the 160-pound title from Bobo Olson.

DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

Keep Head Still

The position of the head from the time the swing is started until the ball is hit is all-important. If the head moves, the coordination between eyes and hands is fouled up.

The oldest admonition in golf is, "Keep your head down." But it is better to "keep your head STILL." If your head moved downward during the swing, you would still be keeping your head down; but the swing would be thrown out of kilter, just as much as if you moved it upward and looked up.

At address, the head should be in such a position that the chin points to the spot on the ball where the clubhead is to make contact. (Players of the heavy-set type, with broad shoulders and a relatively short neck, should turn the head a bit more around to the right to facilitate shoulder turn.)

The head must remain in that original position until the force of the swing on your follow-through PULLS it around into a position from which you can follow the flight of the ball. Remember that the force of the swing and your follow-through should bring the head up after the ball is hit — never before.

Monongahela Hi Trips Monessen

Wildcats Win, 7-1, as Kikla Strikes Out No Less Than 17

Southpaw Ed Kikla fanned 17 Monessen High batters yesterday to pitch Monongahela to a 7-1 win in Section 17 play at Van Voorhis.

The victory avenged an earlier setback suffered by the Monongahelans at Monessen. It also kept the Cats flickering title hopes alive. They trail leading Charleroi by a game and a half.

Kikla, a fireballing lefty who hasn't lived up to his reputation, was at his best yesterday.

He gave up just three hits, hits, while accounting for 17 of the game's 21 putouts on strikes.

The Hounds averted a shutout in the fourth inning when Carl Crawley singled and moved to second on a sacrifice. Jimmy Sepesky doubled him home.

Kunsa Singles

The only other Monessen safety — a single — was stroked by Mike Kunsa in the third.

Crawley, who does everything, handled the pitching chores for Monessen. He fanned seven and tossed a pretty good game until the sixth inning when the home team nicked him for three runs.

Jack Evans tripled and Fred Cox doubled to pace the Monongahela attack.

Charleroi Raps Donora, 16 to 7, In Section 17

Charleroi High's baseballers moved closer to the Section 17 title yesterday by slamming Donora, 16-7.

Carl Witmyer, Art Artis and Tim Lee shared mound duties in the easy win.

Witmyer also started at bat with a double and single, good enough to drive in five runs.

Ron Cosner and Chico Delsandro also had two baggers for the league leaders while Joe Uhlman checked in with a triple.

Dave Russell and Bill Marran slammed doubles to pace the Donora hitting.

The win was the sixth straight for the Cougars this season. They were helped considerably by 11 Donora errors.

Bucs Lose in Tenth, 8 to 5, on Errors to Braves

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates try again tonight to do what no one else has been able to accomplish this year—beat the Milwaukee Braves with a right-handed pitcher.

The Braves, helped along with a 10th inning error, defeated the Pirates, 8-5, Thursday night. It was the 11th victory, all against righties, for the league leaders. Their two defeats this season have been by southpaws.

Buc manager Bobby Bragan picked the best in his stable of right-handers, Bob Friend, to handle the mound chores tonight. Friend (2-2) will be opposed by Gene Conley (0-0) for Milwaukee.

A trade came back to haunt the Bues in their Thursday loss. Shortstop Gene Baker, in his first night in a Pirate uniform, after arriving from the Cubs, booted a ground ball in the top of the 10th inning and opened the way for a three-run game-winning rally. The miscue was Baker's second of the evening.

Powers Homer

The last frame spurt erased the effort of pinch-hitter Johnny Powers who put the Pirates back in the ball game in the ninth with a three-run homer that knotted the contest. The Pirates had scored single runs off victor Lew Burdette in the first and seventh.

Starter Ron Kline gave up two Milwaukee runs in the third and Luis Arroyo yielded another in the fourth.

Steve Mahovlich

Mahovlich Headed For Wake Forest

Steve Mahovlich, former football lineman at Monessen High School, has been awarded a four-year grid scholarship to Wake Forest.

Mahovlich, who took part in prep ball at Massanutten in Woodstock, Va., the past season, attracted the attention of Wake Forest scouts with his smashing play.

The big fellow appeared at both tackle and center for Massanutten during early season games. He even tried his hand at fullback later in the campaign.

Steve, who blossomed to 250 pounds following the grid campaign, has agreed to report to Wake Forest at 225 pounds. He's already back down to 235.

Mahovlich was recently selected as one of the escorts for the famed apple festival in Winchester, Va.

Machen Meets Aging Maxim in TV Bout Tonight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Young Eddie Machen, confident that what he did once he can do again, takes on aging Joey Maxim tonight in an effort to establish his claim to a shot at the world heavyweight title.

The nationally-televised Derby eve 10-rounder is a repeat of a January joust in Miami, in which Machen not only decisioned the 35-year-old former light heavy king but became one of the few men who ever knocked Maxim down. Machen is a 3-1 favorite for the return fight.

Machen, at 25, has climbed to No. 2 ranking among the heavyweight contenders in a brief career that includes 20 victories in as many fights, 14 of them by knockouts.

Robin Roberts Stops Chicago On Three Hits; Chisox on Top

By FRED DOWN

It's plain today those obituaries of Robin Roberts' demise as a star pitcher were somewhat premature.

Three straight losses this year on top of last season's so-so 19-18 record had the expert counting Robin "out," but the burly Philadelphia Phillies' right hander proved Thursday night he's still "got it" with a 4-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs in which he allowed only three hits and struck out 13. The strikeout total was the highest of Robin's personal career and established a major league high for the current campaign.

Roberts, who had a 4.33 earned run average after losing his first three starts, retired the first 12 batters to face him and struck out six of them. Dale Long, acquired from the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday, broke the spell with a homer in the fifth and Lee Walls, obtained in the same trade, knocked in Chicago's other run with a triple in the seventh.

Braves Keep Rolling

The Milwaukee Braves took a two-game hold on first place with an 8-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, the St. Louis Cardinals scored a 3-2 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers in a four-hour and 45-minute, 16-inning marathon and the Cincinnati Redlegs downed the New York Giants, 9-7, in the other National League games.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox made it 10 victories in 12 games with a 6-1 decision over the Washington Senators, the New York Yankees beat the Kansas City Athletics, 3-1 and the Detroit Tigers downed the Boston Red Sox, 7-5. Baltimore and Cleveland were idle.

A 10th-inning error by Pittsburgh shortstop Gene Baker, obtained in the deal with the Cubs, set up a three-run rally that carried the Braves to their 11th win in 13 games. Hank Aaron had five hits in six tries as Lew Burdette won his third game of the year with relief aid from Red Murff. Johnny Powers tied the game in the ninth with a three-run pinch-hit homer.

Don Blasingame singled home Eddie Miksis in the 16th to give the Cardinals their marathon win over Brooklyn and their fifth consecutive triumph. Herman Wehmeier went the first 12 innings for the Cardinals before giving way to winner Larry Jackson.

Don Hoak, who set a major league mark by striking out six times a year ago May 2, drove in five runs with four hits in Cincinnati's third straight victory. Hoak's fourth hit, a single through a drawn-in infield, knocked in the two ninth-inning runs that gave the Redlegs the decision.

Walt Dropo's grand-slam homer was the big blow for the White Sox as Dick Donovan went the distance with a five-hitter for his first win. Dropo's blow came after a homer by Roy Sievers produced a 1-1 second-inning tie and dealt Chuck Stobbs his fourth straight loss of the year.

The Yankees took over second place in the A.L. when Tom Sturdivant scattered seven hits. The world champions scored their winning runs in the third on rookie Tony Kubek's triple, a walk to Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra's sacrifice fly and Bill Skowron's single.

Rookie Don Lee gained his first major league victory for Detroit with the aid of a three-run homer by Charley Maxwell that featured a five-run fourth-inning uprising. Tom Brewer suffered his second loss of the year for the Red Sox, who played without the services of slugger Ted Williams, confined to his hotel room with a cold.

Six Schools in Big Six Meet At Brownsville

Six schools will take part in the seventh annual Big Six Track Meet today at Brownsville.

The first event will begin at 1:30 p. m.

Competing for honors will be thinclads from Monessen, Charleroi, Donora, Monongahela, Redstone and Brownsville.

The host Brownies are favored to win the team title. As yet, they are undefeated in dual and triangular meets this season.

Donora will also enter a strong team, which has yet to lose in meets this campaign.

Monessen has little hopes of winning any events. Coach Cliff Jones's inexperienced boys will be satisfied to wind up with a respectable score.

Pirates Recall Laurin Pepper

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today recalled right-handed pitcher Laurin Pepper from their Hollywood farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Pepper had a 0-1 record with the Stars going into Thursday night's game with a 2.57 earned run average. The Vaughan, Miss., native was signed as a bonus player for the Pirates and was optioned to Hollywood after his bonus clause expired last July.

Nicaragua, Honduras Feud

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UP) — Nicaragua and Honduras shifted to wartime footings today and rushed troops to key points on their common border.

There was no formal declaration of war by either country. But the situation was becoming more critical by the moment despite pleas by the Organization of American States and the U.S. government for a ceasefire pending a peaceful settlement of the centuries-old border dispute.

The OAS was forming a five-nation committee to rush to Central America on a fact - finding mission.

Reports from Tegucigalpa, Honduras, said the fighting had spread from Mocoron in the disputed territory near the Caribbean coast to Las Manos, a western border post about 80 miles from the Pacific Ocean.

Informed sources here said some 20,000 Nicaraguan troops were converging on the border, supported by naval and air forces.

Nicaraguan armed forces chief Gen. Anastasio Somoza announced Thursday night that his troops recaptured Mocoron Thursday less than 18 hours after Honduran forces took it from a Nicaraguan patrol.

Informed sources said three Honduran P38s were shot down in the battle, but no casualty list was announced.

Antique Auto Show In West Newton Gym

Sixteen of the most interesting and glamorous cars in existence today will be the feature of the Antique Auto Show in the West Newton High School gym tomorrow, from 1 to 10 p. m.

Art Brundage, a member of the Methodist Men of the Methodist Church, who are sponsoring the show, is the only West Newton member of the Antique Automobile Club of America. All cars at the show are owned by members of this organization.

A car that has won top honors throughout the United States will be a special attraction. It is a Stevens-Duryea, owned by Morris Kinkle, of Harrison City. One of the latest trophies won by this fabulous car was first prize for its class in the 1956 Glidden Tour.

Two other National First Prize winners will also be on display. One of these is a 1908 Brush, owned by Nal Harris, of Whitehall. The other is a 1913 Buick owned by Art Brundage, of West Newton.

Other cars being shown, each a real showpiece are: 1908 Maxwell, 1910 Case, 1910 Roo, 1910 Buick, 1910 Ford, 1911 White, 1912 Ford, 2-1914 Fords, 1916 Ford, 1919 Ford, 1930 LaSalle, 1932 Ford.

While nearly all these cars have appeared throughout the country individually at special parades and special attractions, this is the first time they have appeared as a group. It is believed to be the first Antique Auto Show ever held in the tri-state area.

All of the cars are in working order. The paint finishes and brass trim glistens more than a car just off the assembly line. The value of those cars is tremendous since they cannot be replaced at any price.

Hours are from 1 to 10 p. m. Admission will be charged.

Fayette County Communities Get State Grant

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Commerce Department said today the federal government has approved a $63,835 grant on a matching basis for studies of planning and zoning programs in 11 Pennsylvania communities.

Under the grant to the Commerce Department, cleared by the Urban Renewal Administration, the state agency will supply technical assistance on community planning programs with the community sharing equally in the cost.

Warren Zitzmann, chief of the Planning Division in the Bureau of Community Development, said the studies are a preliminary to redevelopment if the communities desire to carry out the plans.

The communities benefitting by the latest grant are: Red Lion, York County; Windber, Somerset County; Butler and Penn Twp., Butler County; Cumru Twp., Berks County; Meadville and Titusville, Crawford County; Brownsville and Connellsville, Fayette County; Perkasie, Bucks County, and Carbondale, Lackawanna County.

Zitzmann said they were the second group approved under the program and he anticipated another large group would apply within the next several months. The first included 20 communities last May.

As early as 1876, J. C. Maxwell of Edinburgh introduced a theory of ethical waves.

A PLEDGE!

If elected mayor of Monessen, my first responsibility will be to the duties of my office. I shall do all in my power to make this office less political and more civic.

I believe that the future of our children should be our main consideration; therefore I believe that our school system should not be tampered with for political reasons.

I believe that the people of Monessen should be fully informed on all major projects. When a large city bond issue is involved the people should be given the opportunity to vote their approval or disapproval of the project.

I am certan that with careful planning, with efficient administration, we should be able to make REAL progress with the state and federal redevelopment funds now being offered to local communities. I intend to seek the cooperation of every agency, local, state and federal for the betterment of Monessen.

Protestant Supports Catholics Who Want Use of Public Buses

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UP)—A noted Protestant theologian today came to the support of Roman Catholic parents who are demanding public bus transportation for parochial school students.

Catholics are within their rights in this spreading controversy and it is a mistake for Protestants to oppose them, said the Rev. Dr. John C. Bennett.

Bennett, a Congregationalist minister, is professor of Christian ethics at Union Theological Seminary, New York. He took his stand in an editorial written for the magazine, Christianity and Crisis, of which he and Reinhold Neibuhr are co-editors.

"The parents of parochial school children pay taxes, and the fact that they also pay for the parochial schools in many communities considerably reduces the taxes which other citizens have to pay," said Bennett. "In this situation, why is it not reasonable adjustment to the claims of fairness to provide transportation for their children?"

That is essentially the same position that Catholic parents have taken in Maine, Connecticut and other states where drives are underway to provide bus service for parochial school students. Fifteen states now authorize such service in varying degrees.

Bennett said some Protestants are fighting the Catholic demand for fear that granting it would open the door to "a whole series of concessions to Roman Catholicism on the school problem."

But he said these Protestants have chosen a "vulnerable" line to defend. He noted that the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled (in the 1947 Everson case) that bus transportation is a welfare service which a community may provide to all children without violating the constitutional separation of church and state.

He urged Protestants to remember that the school bus dispute is not a doctrinate legal question but "a human problem affecting many millions of our fellow citizens," and a problem in which Catholics have "good reason" to feel that "simple justice" is on their side.

News briefs from the churches:

Churches throughout the United States and Canada will observe Family Week May 5-12. Each church-affiliated family will be urged to make an honest "self-evaluation," to determine whether religious faith really holds a central place in family life.

A leader of the United Lutheran Church has warned his denomination that it faces an "alarming" shortage of pastors. Dr. Gould Wickey, secretary of the United Lutheran Board of Higher Education, reported that the church now has 439 vacancies in its pastorates, but only 191 new ministers will be graduated from its 10 seminaries this June.

Seventh Day Adventist scholars have completed translation of the Holy Bible into the Marovo language, spoken by a tribe of former head-hunters in the Solomon Islands. Many of the Marovo people have been converted to Christianity by Adventist missionaries.

The Bible has now been translated into a total of 1,109 languages.

A South American Protestant leader, the Rev. Garrido Aldama of Peru, has gone to Europe to study the possibility of beaming Protestant evangelical broadcasts to predominantly Catholic Spain. Aldama directs six Protestant radio stations in South America under the auspices of the foreign missions division of the National Council of Churches.

Peoples Gas to Sell Some Notes

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Peoples Natural Gas Co., Pittsburgh, today had Public Utility Commission authority to sell 11 million dollars in promissory notes to pay for plant construction.

The firm said $6,500,000 will be applied toward the cost of this year's building program, and the remainder toward part of the 1956 costs.

'Ancient' Persons Excellent Patients

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UP) — "Ancient" persons" 100 years old and older may be better surgical risks than younger persons and are "excellent patients," the medical profession has been advised by a surgeon who has treated three of them, and successfully, for broken hip bones.

Dr. Harold M. Childress of Jamestown, N.Y., contributed this information because there will be more and more such persons. He got his three in a period of 15 years in the general hospital of a city of less than 50,000 population. But it is well known that people are living longer.

One of the three lacked only five months of being 106. The youngest was one month beyond the century mark. Childress was struck by the vivid demonstration which all three gave that age in years was a poor index to their bodies and bodily functions.

None Suffers Shock

All three had broken their hip bones in falls. But not one was in shock when he got to them immediately after the accidents. Two of the three had the broken bones exposed surgically and Childress joined the bones by screwing metal plates into them. All withstood this well.

"The secrets of longevity have never been discovered, but it seems that mental and physical relaxation combined with an easy acceptance of a changing physical world are important," he reported to the Medical Society of the state of New York.

"The same qualities of mental and physical adaptation which allowed these individuals to reach such an age are now invaluable in meeting the discomforts and restrictions necessitated by prolonged treatment. Their calm reaction to the situation and their willingness to cooperate make them excellent patients."

His 105-year-plus old patient is (so far as is known) the oldest person with successful broken hip bone surgery reported to medical literature. In 1953 104 cases of "hip-nailing" in persons over 80 were reported, but the oldest among them was 95.

Artery-Hardening

This patient was a woman, and so was a second, who was 101 years and nine months old at the time. The oldest of the two had only a moderate degree of artery-hardening, a process which was quite marked in the younger. The 100 years and one month old man's arteries were in fair condition.

The older woman died t – months after she left the hospital, of heart failure. The man survived less than a year, but died of failure of heart and kidneys. The second woman who had her accident in the fall of 1955 is living still.

Childress pointed to the statistical proofs of longer life for people, especially to a demonstration that between 1930 and 1940 the United States population increased only 7 per cent while the number of persons living beyond 75 increased 38 per cent.

"With the present trend of more people living longer, physicians can expect to be treating an increasing number of individuals in this advanced age group," he said.

Woman's Club Surprise Show Here Tonight

The show will open at 8 o'clock with Bill Gaskill as master of ceremonies. During the intermission there will be a program of pantomimes, dancing and accordion music.

Co-chairmen Mrs. Stephen Figel, Mrs. Richard Auther and Mrs. LeRoy Gardner have been active during the past week assembling some 50 prizes to be given during the evening.

Before and after the show, baked goods and home made candy will be available in the Center's annex. Mrs. James Welch, Mrs. Robert Park, Mrs. Willis Johnson and Mrs. Elmer Russell are in charge.

Tickets for the affair have been on sale during the past week. Proceeds will be used for the welfare work of the club.

Six-foot Baby

CHICAGO (UP)—Officials at Brookfield Zoo proudly announced Thursday that Pamela the giraffe has given birth to a six-foot baby. They think it's a boy. The newcomer's spindly legs gave way the moment it was born—as always happens to giraffe babies—and its sex won't be identified until it's strong enough to stand.

Practical Nursing Urged for Career

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP) — Mrs. Alice K. Leopold, assistant to the secretary of labor for women's affairs, urged mature women job seekers today to consider practical nursing as a career.

Mrs. Leopold, addressing a symposium of the National Association for Practical Nurse Education, said mature women, with the experience gained through family life, "will be especially fitted to perform the important and vital functions" of practical nursing.

To Get New Type Rifle

WASHINGTON (UP) — The American soldier is getting a new standard rifle to take the place of four present types of shoulder-fired weapons.

The famed M1, the Browning automatic rifle, the .30 calibre carbine and the M3 submachine gun are going the way of the old Springfield.

The new rifle is called the T44.

The Army announced Wednesday that after a six-year competition the T44—developed at the Springfield, Mass., armory—was selected and the Belgian FN rifle adopted by the British was rejected.

The Army said the new rifles will be issued to the troops in 1960.

NBC Opera Company Plans for Long Tour

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP)—Samuel Chotzinoff, producer of the NBC-TV operas and the touring NBC Opera Company, believes in pear-shaped tones But not in pear - shaped singers.

Chotzinoff, who has pieced together such video efforts as "La Traviata," "Salome" and "War and Peace," now is blueprinting a schedule that'll take the NBC opera entourage into 57 cities next season

William Ewald

He feels the day is at an end when the public will accept a love duet between a steamboat-sized soprano and a puffing tenor.

"I would never use (Kirsten) Flagstad, the greatest soprano in the world," said Chotzinoff today. "To watch her sing 'Traviata,' for example, would just be funny to most people. It would be a concert in custard.

"The singer who is not believable in a role, who is not appealing visually, will disappear. I think. And of course, TV will be largely responsible. There will be no use for the big fat ones."

Believability is one of the key words to Chotzinoff's entertainments. "It's the reason why we do all our operas in English," he said. "You can not really believe in a story, you can not enjoy it, unless you understand it.

"You miss 50 per cent of an opera that is sung in a language that is untamiliar. And if you're not a musician or a real music lover, you miss the other 50 per cent. It's no wonder that so many people in the past were bored by opera."

In European opera houses, said Chotzinoff, it is common practice to convert an opera into the tongue of the country in which it is performed

"Only in England and America, is there any hesitation at translating opera," he said. "And that hesitation is all just snobbism.

"It was all started by those people who treat opera as a social affair and don't really care about it anyhow. And it has been aided and abetted by a lot of fatheaded critics."

Although the NBC touring opera company lost $150,000 last season. Chotzinoff sees a heady future in store for it. "We knew we would lose money in the beginning," he said. "We look upon it as a kind of public service.

"But eventually, we think we may reach a self-sustaining basis. We've found there is a real hunger for this kind of entertainment. People are surprised opera can be entertaining. They laugh at the funny lines, they cry at 'Butterfly.'"

And added Chotzinoff, there are the rewards of building a company. "We don't go in for prima donnas and everybody toes the line," he said. "Everybody travels by bus, sometimes they made a jump of 150 miles in one night. But the spirit is wonderful.

"The old opera companies were built on personality, on temperament. Ours is based on ensemble. And it works wonderfully. Last year we had three girls playing 'Madame Butterfly' and they were like dolls—they even helped each other dress backstage between the acts. That is something you would never find in an old type opera company."

Your Health—

Good Massage Helps Body in Many Ways

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Are you keyed up? Are your nerves in a knot? Then have a massage.

My job is not to promote business for massage salons. But it is to my purpose to help keep you in good health, both mental and physical.

And what could be more relaxing and soothing than a good rubdown?

Spend about 20 minutes having a good brisk rub and then another five minutes or so of gentle patting and you will probably feel a lot better than you did before.

A good massage, you see, helps your body in many ways.

It stimulates the glands of the skin and improves circulation At the same time, it tones up the blood vessels and helps your body get rid of waste products.

But probably most important, it relaxes tense muscles. In fact, it relaxes you all over and is good for your nerves.

You tend to forget your business problems on the massage table. And once you are through, I'll bet things will look a lot brighter, no matter what your problems are

You will get a much better massage if you have it done by a professional masseur or masseuse, as the case may be, but if your spouse is cooperative you may have him or her rub your back briskly for ten or fifteen minutes tonight before you go to sleep.

I'm pretty sure you will find it relaxes you so you will get a good night's sleep.

The only trouble is that you may have to reciprocate the favor and wake up to give your spouse the same treatment.

Question and Answer

Mrs. P. D.: What is the cause of complete fatigue?

Answer: Fatigue may be due simply to improper health habits such as overwork

The common cause is an infection somewhere in the body, such as in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses or gall bladder. Disturbances of the glands of internal secretion may be responsible. Anemia is a cause

A thorough examination by the physician is necessary to find the cause of the trouble.

Rostraver Band Parents Hold Monthly Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Band Parents was held Monday with Alex Turda, president, in charge. Mrs. Glenn Boyd led the pledge of allegiance.

John Pelar, Rostraver High School band director, commended the group for their cooperation and also for the more than $2,000 of equipment purchased by the parents.

The group has sold its first shipment of black pepper and will receive a restaurant-size coffee urn. The group will work on a second shipment and anticipate a cash bonus.

A candy sale will be held during the senior band concert tonight at Rostraver High School.

Mrs. William Jenkins, of Finleyville, is spending the week with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Echart, of Sweeney Plan.

Doctor Claims He Sold Drugs To Alleviate Pain

PITTSBURGH (UP) — A Pittsburgh physician arrested for supplying narcotics to addicts said today he sold the illegal prescriptions to "alleviate pain."

Dr. Samuel R. Cohen, staff doctor for three city schools and the state Department of Public Assistance, declared:

"Most addicts have been to hospitals and have had cures which do not last. The result is that they are in physical pain. If a doctor doesn't give them narcotics, they will go outside and steal them."

The bespectacled doctor was arrested Wednesday at his Northside office after a four month surveillance by state and city agents.

Donald Walters, state narcotics investigator, said Dr. Cohen had illegally prescribed narcotics for at least 42 addicts. The prescriptions, pre-dated, were priced at $3 each, he said.

"In one instance, Dr. Cohen sold 11 pre-dated prescriptions to one addict for $33," the state agent added.

Walters described the physician as one of the biggest suppliers of narcotics to "occasional users." The agent added, that although Dr. Cohen was a school physician, there is no evidence that he sold the drugs to children.
